

Registration Now Open for 2017 Ohio Women Veterans Conference Celebrating Generations of Service - 67,000 Veterans Strong

COLUMBUS – Registration is now open for the Ohio Women Veterans Conference, one of the largest gatherings of women veterans in the nation. This year’s conference is scheduled for Sat., Aug. 12 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at The Ohio State University Union in Columbus. Women veterans can register online at OhioVets.gov.

“The Ohio Women Veterans Conference is an awesome opportunity to meet and connect with our sisters in arms,” said Angela Beltz, chairwoman of the Ohio Department of Veterans Services Women Veterans Advisory Committee. “It’s a rare time when women veterans of all eras from WWII to present day Iraq and Afghanistan come together to celebrate progress and learn about the benefits we have earned.”

Ohio is home to 67,000 women veterans. Veterans and current military members attending the conference will find information about Ohio’s new fast track to jobs and education for veterans, services available locally through Ohio’s 88 County Veterans Service Offices and the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Women Veterans programs and benefits. Workshops will cover topics such as community service, employment, entrepreneurship, military retirement, money management, and health and wellness.

Previous conferences have drawn 700 attendants, so early registration is advised. Go to OhioVets.gov and REGISTER NOW.
